

Day No. 0

We prepared a full day of insightful and useful activities, talks and workshops for you on the 0.day of BIMUN 2014. This day is just for YOU: for all the extra things that will help you to become the most prepared delegate not only at BIMUN 2014, but in future MUNs as well!

Protocol

What do aspiring diplomats need to know by heart in every minute of their life, but especially in their work? We have a “Rules of Procedure”, but do we know the international courtesy rules? This talk will help the delegates to be more conscious of their role representing their country in an international terrain.

Argumentation

The road to Best Delegate starts with skilful argumentation. Here you will learn the basics of how to dazzle all the other Honorary Delegates – and Chairs, of course – by providing you with the ability to draw your conclusions through logical reasoning. This can come quite handy in case you need to use some persuasion to obtain the desired support to your draft resolution.

Human Rights Training

Human rights pose a very delicate issue in international relations and especially in the work of the UN. Here we will have a practical session in order to involve and motivate you to think a bit differently about them and to form a positive awareness of human rights in your future work.

Sustainable Development Goals

The Sustainable Development Goals encompass a new initiative which will build upon the Millennium Development Goals and converge with the post 2015 development agenda. This will be the main topic of the BIMUN 2014 and thus, this workshop will provide a deeper insight into understanding the SDGs after the agreement of UN member states at the Rio+20 Conference last summer.

Refugees

Who are refugees and displaced persons? How are they protected? Current international conflicts show a rising number of people seeking refuge in fear of persecution in their home countries. This workshop will help you in understanding their struggle.
