November 21st - 25th 2017

The Faculty of Law of the University of Ljubljana is pleased to invite all European Universities to apply for the second edition of the All-European International Humanitarian and Refugee Law Moot Court Competition that will take place from 21st to 25th November 2017 in Ljubljana, Slovenia.

This moot court competition is based on the case study carefully prepared by the organisers in cooperation with the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), which addresses the most topical questions relating to the humanitarian and refugee law drawing on the current crisis situations. It is designed to encourage students to learn and understand basic concepts of humanitarian and refugee law by addressing concrete legal problems. This is the first All-European moot court competition comprehensively addressing questions of humanitarian and refugee law, giving students the opportunity to familiarise themselves with the most pertinent legal issues from these fields and practice their legal argumentation.
